

Name Mrs. Rae Murdock Occurrence No. 641
 Address Westwood Funeral Chapel Place Sarkatoon, Sask.
1402 - 20 St. West.
Ph - 653-3434 Date January 31st, 1969
 Time 2⁵⁵ PM

Mrs. Rae Murdock states as follows:
 I am the manager of Westwood
 Funeral Chapel located 1402 - 20 St. West
 in Sarkatoon.

At approx. 5³⁰ PM or 5³⁵ PM - January 31, 1969 - a young girl called at my apartment which is located above
 the rear part of the funeral chapel and advised me that there was a woman lying out in the lane.

I immediately notified my assistant Terry Michaylich who also resides at the Westwood Funeral Chapel
 of what this girl had told me.

We both immediately put on our coats & followed this girl, where she pointed out this woman to see.
 Terry Michaylich was to this woman
 first - and I asked him if an ambulance was required and he stated yes and that we had better phone ^{Police} this too. Terry Michaylich then came back to the chapel to do the phoning.

I proceeded on up to where this body was lying and I observed a female young girl lying face down on the snow in the lot which runs north and south in the 200 block Duane N. South. I noticed this woman's clothing was disarranged and odd spots of blood in the snow near the body and it appeared as though a struggle had taken place. This woman appeared young, to have dark hair, wearing a dark colored coat - and it appeared that some of her underclothing were down around her ankles. At this time I was at the body there were about five school kids standing near by. I told these kids to go along to school, except for the girl who I asked to stay.

Terry Michayluk apparently after phoning - returned to the scene, with a blue blanket and covered the body
